Master By Research

Selinus University is a global institution providing distance learning programs. It includes 7 faculties and nearly 200 study programs, so as to meet adult students' needs; we assume that our potential students are willing to find a job in industry and trade or to become professionals or companies' titleholders.

Selinus University has a clear vision of its work, study programs and our international students' needs. We believe that research, innovation and competence are the basis of every life and work project.
Through the APEL (Accreditation of Prior Experiential Learning) validation system, our institution is engaged in the students' profiles evaluations, in order to outline their professional and personal skills and foster their career opportunities.

The modern job market operates on an increasingly larger scale; this awareness strengthens our conviction that any study project has to be supported by precise strategies useful to the students.

Selinus University strategic vision

The main objective of Selinus University is to strengthen the professional and academic profile of adult students willing to access jobs, enhance their career or engage in new projects implementation.

Our students are often managers or professionals already qualified. They can benefit from our distance learning system, since they will not need to take time away from their jobs and their families.

We trust every adult student's self-awareness and we strongly believe in people's capacity for self-determination. Carrying out a distance program without any campus attending commitments will allow the students to prove their personality, improve their self-esteem and achieve their goals.

This is why Selinus University has implemented seven faculties and almost 200 study programs, so that any student can easily find the right path to professional and personal success.

What is a Master of Philosophy “by Research” via distance Learning

The Master of Philosophy (MPhil) is a post-graduate Master by Research, which consists in carrying out an academic research in autonomy, that will culminate in the writing of a final dissertation (at least 90-page long).

In order to obtain a Selinus University MPhil degree, 40 Uniselinus Credits are required in addition to a Bachelor's or other Master's degree. We welcome applications from students who have relevant experience and eagerness for a successful program completion.

The Master of Philosophy (Mphil) degree is a high-level academic specialization which allows direct access to a PhD. Thanks to their experience in the field, candidates acquire a high disciplinary specialization, precise knowledge and educational experience; all those elements will merge into their final thesis. The achievement of Selinus University MPhil will rely on the evaluation of the thesis content and structure, the topic originality and the autonomy of the student in carrying out the research.

To access a MPhil program a 30 years old minimum age is required.

Costs

The MPhil program has a much lower cost than a traditional Master's degree, which is usually spread over two or three years. In fact, each credit has a cost of 60 euros, compared to the average 150 euros of a traditional program. Since 40 credits are needed, the all-inclusive program cost will be 2400 euros, which can be paid in one lump sum or in consecutive monthly installments.

How to enroll

If you are willing to apply to the program, you need to fill in the Application Form, indicating the relevant academic discipline (major) that is of your interest.
Then, please send the form back to us, together with your CV, a copy of your passport or ID card and a passport size photo, at the email address:

info@selinusuniversity.it

If your application is successful, you will receive a Certificate of Enrollment and the payment plan you chose.

Accreditation - Education Quality - Reputation

The accreditation process is non-governmental and discretional. A distance education university usually appeals to a private, regional or professional association, in order to be accredited. When any university applies, the accrediting institution performs an overall assessment and grants the accreditation only when deemed appropriate, according to its own accreditation criteria. No worldwide accreditation standards are currently available for any distance learning higher education institutions such as Selinus University.

A distance learning degree can be useful for many purposes, but not for all. It can give access to many careers and jobs, whereas others require government-accredited diplomas.

For this reason, before enrolling, we suggest our potential students to verify the correct degree use in their country.

Professional reputation depends on people's skills and competency, that are only virtually represented by the obtained degree. It is therefore necessary to bear in mind that any company or employer relies more on actual knowledge and expertise owned by aspiring employees, rather than on their degree. For most companies, the completion of a distance university program is as valid as attending courses in a formal university campus.

NOTE

Sometimes, our students - that are managers, professionals or entrepreneurs - need to obtain licenses or to transfer academic credits to/from other institutions. However, in the United States many licensing authorities require accredited degrees as a basis for issuing licenses. Therefore, the recognition of non-accredited university degrees, either for academic or professional purposes, may be discretional.

In the event that a potential student wishes to enroll at Selinus University in order to access a governmental or public job or career, we recommend that the requirements are ascertained beforehand with the relevant authorities by the candidate, to assess whether the degree is useful or not for the desired work purposes. Selinus University does not intervene in such verification process.
